Dear Bill, (T.O.T #1 or WAG #2) Dopeyfishat
Judy

At long last we made it! Graduation is going to become a reality. During these past years leading up to the big event, we've really had some great and memorable times. First of all was Holiday House back in the summer of 56. That's the first time we really got to know each other and I discovered what a character you really are. I shall never forget all the fun we had at T.B.T. in the plays and the Variety Show. You with your trophies and such, I always knew you were a clown but brother you really surprised all your other performances. When you were "my breathing mummy" in Gay. That was really great! Another one of our ridiculous stunts last year was the Jr. Picnic. You're almost as bad as Patsch. (don't let him see this.) I shall never, never forget your "blue bomb." I'm sure the fresh man will welcome it with open arms. (Just kidding I still want a ride in it.)

All kidding aside this year has been great and I'm really looking forward to next year. Don't forget your father's credit card! You're a real great guy and a valuable friend. I wish you the best of everything the world may hold. I know you'll be a great success if you just stay the same that you are now. Always keep your

Foreword

Imposing its dignity upon the New York skyline is the home of mankind's peaceful aspirations—the United Nations. Here, in this metropolitan cross-section of the world, learned men of all races and creeds assemble for one purpose—peace.

Friendship, co-operation, and understanding, the ideals upon which the United Nations is based, are also the standards upon which we must base our lives. With these ideals as our guide, we will be better equipped to face the responsibilities of insuring international peace.

Many peoples have paid a dear price by accepting the obligations of peace. We, as the future governing generation, must preserve and make secure the rewards of their efforts.

Dedicated to Peace

For thousands of years men have struggled toward one goal, lasting peace. José Vela Zanetti's mural symbolizes the torture that men undergo in their strivings for it. The mural manifests the idea for cooperation. We must work together, not separately. The painting shows how we must grow mature. How we must understand, not only as countries but as individual citizens. We must all realize that each one of us must be able to understand and tolerate, to accept and sympathize, to give of ourselves, in order that our country will be able to play a part in peace, and in the world. We must all remember that we are not only individual American citizens, we are men and therefore citizens of the world.

Faculty and Administration

The Security Council is the guiding hand of the United Nations, just as the Administration and Faculty are our guiding hand. They think, and by their example, we learn to lead.

DR. THEOS ANDERSON
Superintendent of Schools

Guiding the Teaneck public school system this year is Dr. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools. A newcomer to this administrative position, we wish him continued success in the years to come. We may feel confident that under his direction the welfare of Teaneck students receives the maximum consideration.

MISS HELEN B. HILL
Principal

We shall always benefit from the inspiration bestowed upon us by our esteemed principal. Her personal interest in the welfare of each student has successfully guided us through our high school years. Long after we have left Teaneck High, the example she has set will continue to mold and influence our characters.

Administration

MR. JAMES L. WINN
Vice Principal in Charge of Instruction

Teaneck High School is fortunate to have had two vice principals this past year. Mr. Winn, long a familiar face to us all, has done an excellent job as our Vice Principal in Charge of Instruction. As our new Vice Principal in Charge of Administrative Affairs, Mr. Thomas has proven to be both efficient and capable. The opportunities they have given us to improve our minds and advance our education cannot be measured.

Seniors

The Class of 1959 is representative of all types and kinds of people who must learn to live and work together as the countries of the world do in the General Assembly. We are a class which has accomplished much in the way of co-operation, but now we are going to separate. We are going to meet other people. Our scope will widen. We must always give of ourselves unselfishly. Such is the purpose of the General Assembly.

Class History

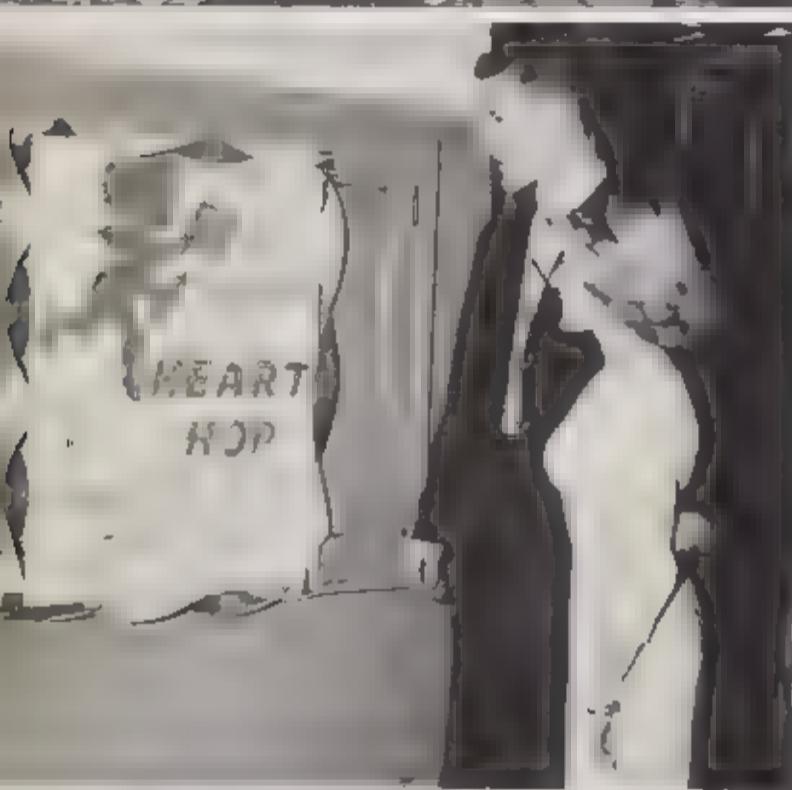

In September, 1953, they put student handbooks into our hands and the student's creed in our heads and told us that we had arrived. Yes, this was the place where we were to shed our grammar school shells to study for the next six years. Valiantly we gave our recitations in Oral English and carried lost lunch tickets to Mrs. Netts while Mr. Chandler helped us to cut free from apron strings. This was the year of the Pez craze and a second homeroom at the end of the day. Screaming the newly learned cheers at our first football games, we began to get that "belonging" feeling. Weren't commendations nice!

Eighth grade brought us out into the world. Older and wiser, girls discovered boys and vice-versa. After the movies on Friday nights, where else did we congregate but the Dutch Grill. During this first year of double sessions, we were forced to make that humid afternoon walk to school in the fall and spring and to trudge our way through the ice and snow of winter, all because we weren't old enough to travel home alone in the dark. Pajama parties and eighth periods became common events, and a new phenomena rock 'n' roll grew by leaps and bounds. As Miss Miceli's "bunnies," we elected Dick our Junior Student Council President for next year. Some of us received sequence honors as we headed for the ninth grade.

"Rule by freshmen" was the order of the year 1955-1956. Since we were the elders of junior high session, we chanted "hic, haec, hoc" with Mr. Cotter, studied Ivanhoe and mythology in English 9, and collected our ten best algebra grades for Mr. Simmons. Junior National Honors preceded a memorable graduation and made us feel very big. The first class to graduate from the new Memorial Gym, we had a hot reception when we marched to strains from "Aida" in the ninety degree temperature. Girls stumbled around in their new white heels, and the boys looked good in their dark jackets and light pants. Remember the open houses afterwards? As we left the junior high behind us, Mr. Steel was leaving the entire school after twenty-three years as principal. The picnic at Cedar Hollow ended a truly great year.

Elvis ushered us into our sophomore year of 1956-1957. Although we were again the youngest in our session, the senior "kings" did not seem so distant. Miss Hill assumed the duties of principal — Vice Principal Clarke assisting. With Elaine on the cheering squad and all-round Lenny on the field, we attended each Saturday game with renewed devotion. The Sophomore Spree, our first class dance, socially initiated us into the senior high, and sorority open houses were becoming popular. When the full seven-period day returned, we sadly bade farewell to our relaxing double sessions. Advanced math classes were new and fun with Mr. Garcia, but plane geometry was a gruesome hurdle for some. Biology was like a formaldehyde dream starring worms, female frogs, and Mr. Gunner saying "Ya, das ist dein cerebellum." Exams were a new experience, and mid-years were anticipated with glee. Later, when we had learned that exams are NOT for fun and profit, the finals were dreaded as all good exams should be. Latin with Mrs. Lischer or Miss Walker, history with Mr. Orel, and science with Mr. Madsen completed our schedules along with Français, Espanol, or Deutch. At last, we could form our Junior Cabinet, and we elected Kip President. The picnic at Island Lake climaxed the year.

Everything seemed to be getting harder by our junior year. Many brave boys accompanied by several very brave girls enjoyed the physics experiments. Some of us "continueth-ed" math with Mr. Garcia for a hysterical but very worthwhile year with "Zorro." Mr. Smith's "Poowah!", Miss Devaney's "southern-fried French" and Mr. Powley's jingling keys and booming voice were heard through the halls as well as on the soccer field. Last, but DEFINITELY NOT least, we'll remember our days in the soup (vegetable) with Miss Curran. With frankness and reality she severed the last of our childhood ties and prepared us for the outside world. Ginny looked terrific out there on the football field. Steve started the "Pinky Poopers." Jazz assemblies with the "Esquires" were memorable along with the '58 Choir show. Dior designed the chemise which had devastating effects on the morale of the T H.S. male. Next came the beat generation with its long socks, long hair, crazy shoes, and characteristic suedes and corduroys. More of us were "bombing around" in possession of our newly acquired licenses. Many of us were seeking jobs for the first time with our Social Security cards clutched in our hot little hands. When we happily purchased our rings at Lohbeck's, we knew that we were here to stay. The Junior Prom was truly a beautiful sight to see and so was Queen Camille in "The Gardens of Mayling." Lory was the deserving recipient of the Elmira Key, and she and Howie captured the editorships. After finals and the picnic at Lake Sebago, we looked toward the biggest year of all.

Mr. Moore's beard and Mr. Emmet were the surprises of our senior year. We now had two vice principals, Mr. Winn and Mr. Thomas, who proved that the best way to do his job is to be everywhere. We were especially proud of Ginny for her second year as head majorette and for being a female Student Council President. Our pride had no limits when the football team presented Mr. Gunner with a 9-0 championship as a Thanksgiving present. Looking over our outstanding sports record, we see that in the past three years we helped win four football championships, four wrestling championships, two soccer championships, and several baseball and tennis championships. That is a record of which every senior may be proud. Arnie proved himself to be an outstanding athlete. Elaine made a great captain, and Jeff ably headed the Cabinet. Our Senior Fall Dance came and went, and those hats finally came, too. We were also proud of our seven Merit semi-finalists. Hard is a mild word for the first half of OUR senior year, 1958-1959. Miss Allen's fresh air classes were stimulating and her outlines long. Miss Busche's "hints" carried us through the "ups and downs" of chemistry. This was the first year of the Advanced English classes and the third of accelerated math. Calculus proved a challenge to say the least. Source themes sent us scurrying to the library (we were always there for Miss Allen anyway) where we haunted the shelves. Frank came into his own as an MC. The annual Christmas Assembly began the Christmas vacation, which went entirely too fast, and we dusted off our books to begin cramming for mid-years three scant weeks away. Class ratings made several happy, including Jay, Elaine and Jeff ruled over the "Coral Reef" in March. The Washington Trip was the greatest and was quickly followed by Easter vacation, which was quickly followed by halls perfumed by the eggy odor of H_2S . Some of us were lucky enough to make National Honors in May. The Yearbook Assembly and class party followed closely behind, and soon graduation was upon us. Everyone agreed that it all went too fast.

As we head toward college, a job, or the service, the unity of our class will continue to exist in our memories. We shall always carry with us the knowledge we've acquired, the disappointments and failures we've experienced, the friendships we've made, and the fun we've had, all of which contribute to the molding of our characters and the development of our minds.

Senior Class Cabinet

From the jungles of South Africa to an oriental garden, the Class Cabinet has been the motivation for "the class that really moves." The first class cabinet to be organized in the Sophomore year, it planned the beautiful "Gardens of Mayling," where we danced amid fairy tale Chinese dragons, and the mysterious "Safari," where we whirled amid stalking lions and tigers. It was because of the diligence and imagination of the Class Cabinet that we were able to buy our smart class hats and that the dreams of our happily-anticipated dances were realized.

Kiddies, Incorporated

By coming to America, foreign students have discovered that teen-agers are alike all over the world, and that the animosities built up between countries do not govern the ability of their peoples to live together peacefully. It is unfortunate that more young people are unable to participate in similar international exchange programs and thus promote world understanding.

Through the new Kiddies, Incorporated, two hundred students have contributed enough money for the club to adopt Tran Van Huy, a little Viet-Namese boy (below left). Mr. Martino is the sponsor of the club. The officers are Bart DiChiara, president, Donald Rutsch, vice-president, Joseph Mocco, treasurer; Agnes Gardell, secretary; and Beverly Britt and Eliot Mazer, publicity.

THE SHERATON-PARK HOTEL

WASHINGTON 8, D. C.

Dear T. H. S.,

We shall always be grateful to you for our wonderful Washington Trip. The weather was beautiful, the hotel gorgeous, and Washington great. In three days we visited more memorials, climbed more steps, ate more strawberry ice cream, and had more fun than ever before. To the amazement of all, not a water pistol slowed its nozzle.

Traditionally we accounted for all 898 steps in the Washington Monument. Miraculously we didn't lose anyone at the zoo or T. B. I. Building. Carefully supervisors put boys and girls on separate floors (but it was a BIG hotel with MANY elevators). Naturally the sun went in while we were having our class picture taken at Mount Vernon — "Hubba, hubba!"

Viewing the beautiful illuminated Lincoln Memorial Monday night proved to be just as spine-tingling as Miss Hill had told us it would be. In Arlington, we silently admired the impressive Marine Corps War Memorial and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Long after we've caught up on our lost sleep and our calloused feet have healed, we'll remember our class excursion to Washington.

Sincerely,

The Class of 1959

Plaque Award Winner - 1959

JOANNE EVELYN JUEL

Plaque Award

Awarded to a senior who has best exemplified the high standards necessary for Honor Society membership, the Plaque Award, presented by the Woman's Club of Teaneck, has become a prized citation in Teaneck High School. The winner, chosen by the Honor Society Committee, is announced as a climax to the Honor Society Induction Assembly. Congratulations from the Class of 1959, the administration, and the faculty to the winner.

National Honor Society

Election to the National Honor Society represents the culmination of three years of distinguished citizenship, leadership, scholarship, and service. The Society's cherished pin, the flaming torch, symbolizes unselfish, unfailing, idealistic contributions to Teaneck High School. The entire upper third of the Senior Class is eligible, but admission to the Society rests upon the vote of the faculty and the student body.

Despite numerous injuries, Teaneck High's basketball squad, coached by John Misko, finished the season with an impressive record of 12-7. Outstanding in this team's record is its 61-58 upset over Englewood. Teaneck's efforts this year were sparked by Arne Thorsland and Barry Herbert, and substantiated by Pete Ignall, Lynn Francis, and Len Garille. The J.V.'s 15-3 record promises a strong team in the near future.

COACH GUNNER

Under the very able coaching of Charlie Gunner and Jack Armstrong, Teaneck's grapplers romped to a 10-0 perfect season, and in doing so became District I and N.S.W.L. Champions. Led by co-captains Mike Denino and Phil Mapes, the "Mat Maulers" compiled a record score of 446 points for this year, and ran their string of successive victories to 23. Although each wrestler turned in a spectacular record, special mention should be given to Juniors Bob Jalil (our only state champ), Alex Kuntzovich, and Larry Sciacchetano, and Sophomore Sal Messina, district champions four.

JOEL NUSSBAUM

Coached by Charlie Gunner, this year's track team is sure to bring home the winnings. Backed by seven lettermen, the squad won their first two meets with Ramsey and Bergenfield by overwhelming margins. Outstanding are Jon Miles in the high jump, Bart DiChiara in the pole vault, Joel Nussbaum in the short runs, Jerry Finneran and Nussbaum in the hurdles, Bob Lages in the half-mile, and Jeff Mayer in the weight events. Very worthy of mention are juniors Mark Pachman, Scott Cross, and Barry Liebl for their performances in the sprints, pole vault and weight events, respectively.

JUNIORS OLDER, FINK, and SEGAL

Teaneck High's tennis team, under the very able guidance of Coach Carter, once again looks forward to a successful season. Backed by Senior lettermen Jeff Lehmann, Mark Comora, and Ira Joseph, and Junior lettermen Bud Fink and Bob Older, the "Rampaging Raqueteers" anticipate winning their tenth straight championship. Rounded out by Dave Stern and Barry Segal, the team is sure to give a good account of itself.

The

With poems, limericks, essays, and short stories the Leaf has warmed our hearts for six of the nineteen years that it has been in existence. Presented annually by Mr. Moore's Creative Writing classes, these volumes have given hundreds of creative students an opportunity to see their work in print, and it has given hundreds more the privilege of reading the work of these aspiring young writers.

MR. JOHNSON LOWELL

To write a serious letter without the aid of my staff is a difficult task, although, it is far easier than it would have been to put out this yearbook without their aid. I doubt that there was ever a more competent or reliable staff than mine in the history of T.H.S., possibly because there has never been an editor more dependent on assistance. I cannot give enough thanks to the editors, managers, assistants, and staff members who contributed their time, energy, and talents so that I could accept what they had done, thus living up to the trust the Class of '59 put in me by appearing as if I had done it all.

I'm sure the staff will join me in thanking our advisers and the Commercial department. I'm sure all will join me in thanking New City Printing Company and Thomas Studios for turning our efforts into a masterpiece of world literature, or T.H.S. literature, anyway. Special credit goes to the United Nations for the photographs on the divider pages, the dedication page, and the closing.

Editor-in-Chief

Patrons and Advertisers

The Economic and Social Council makes it possible for the United Nations to finance and carry out its projects, just as the patrons and advertisers have made it possible for us to finance and carry out the project of our yearbook.

THIS IS YOUR PROUDEST HOUR

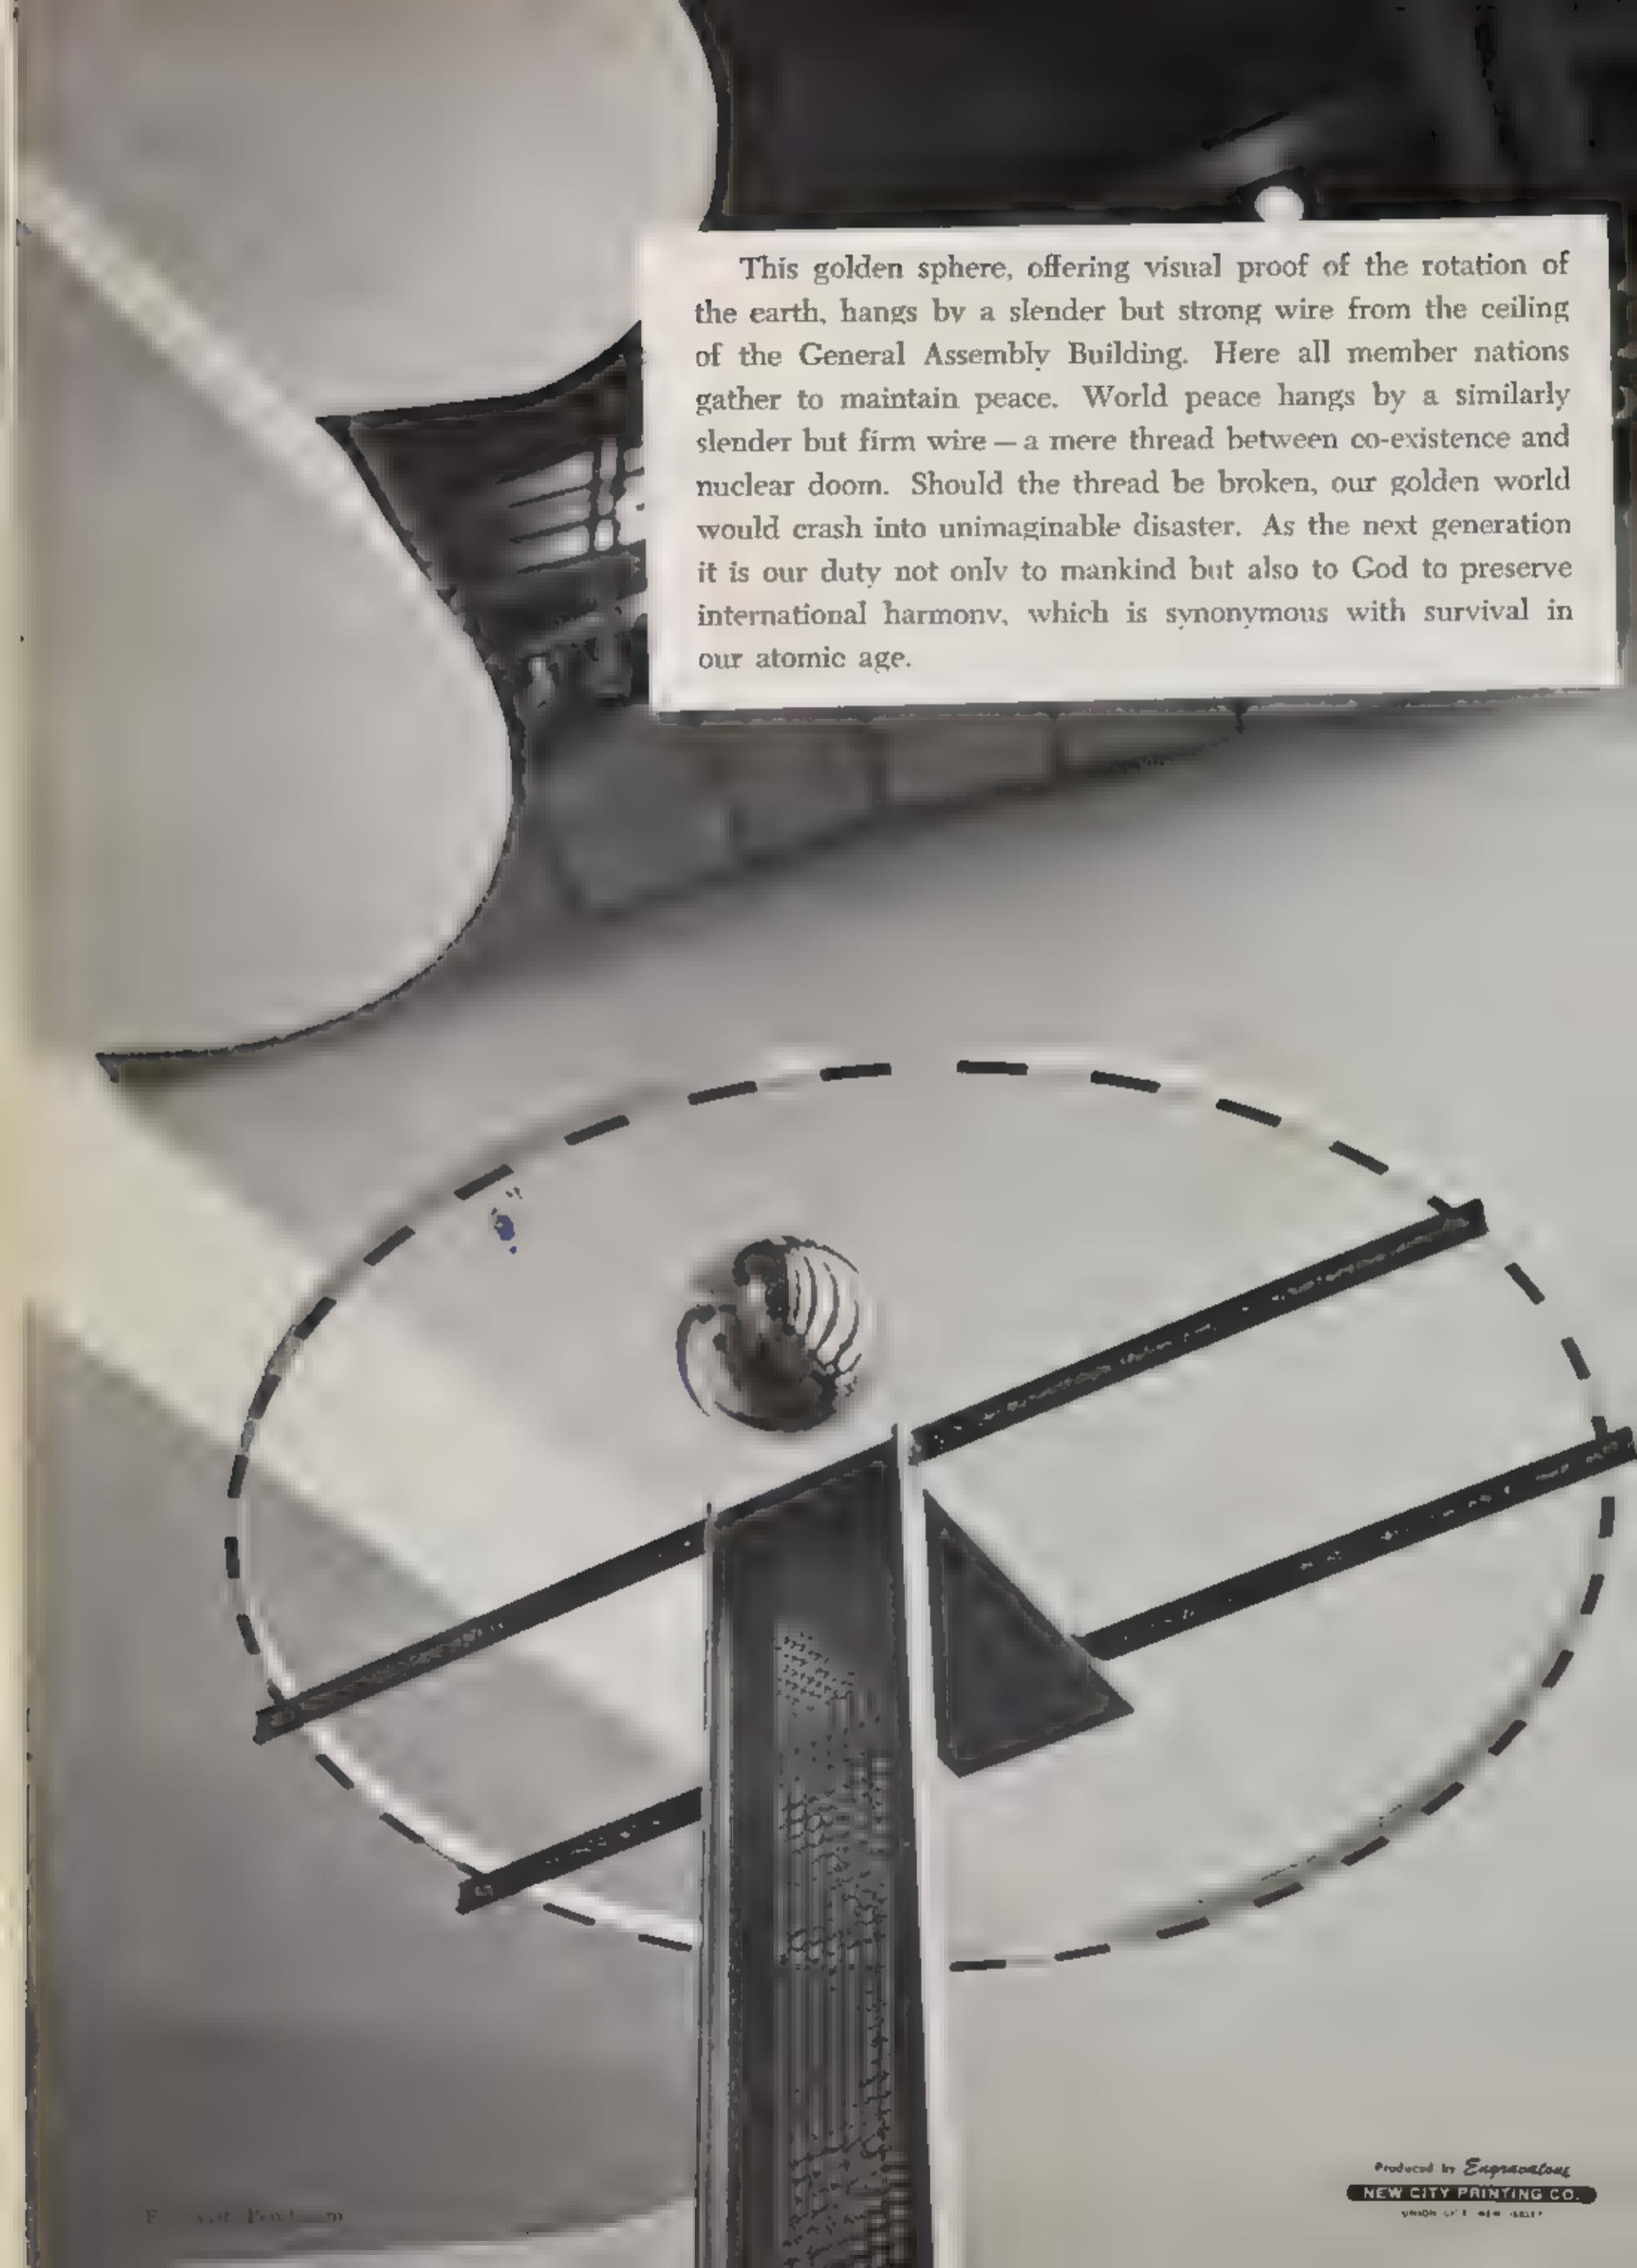

..... Culminating a period in your life you will always want to remember. As your official photographer, we feel elated to have been able to document this cherished era with photographs pulsating the very life you lived - the very thoughts you spread - the very feeling you so warmly and sincerely shared. This reality though captured in a split second will be an everlasting record for posterity.

The future holds many events for you that you will want to remember - Please feel free to call upon us for all of your photographic needs.

LORSTAN-THOMAS STUDIOS

FOREMOST SCHOOL PHOTOGRAPHERS IN THE EAST

This golden sphere, offering visual proof of the rotation of the earth, hangs by a slender but strong wire from the ceiling of the General Assembly Building. Here all member nations gather to maintain peace. World peace hangs by a similarly slender but firm wire — a mere thread between co-existence and nuclear doom. Should the thread be broken, our golden world would crash into unimaginable disaster. As the next generation it is our duty not only to mankind but also to God to preserve international harmony, which is synonymous with survival in our atomic age.

Dear Bill, how you are We'll see you are about to leave we'll be I'll see you and a big for good. The past year and a half because I flourish because I was with you.
(the good days) never leaving enough
I could & I remembered when we first started going steady into the future as your mom would & even look at your know what the future was free though (I'll never forget how the room free of time. We did have fun couple of times. We did have fun just can't seem to do without you and most of all, big boy friend. You've been to big someone big and I would now agree, I would do all for us & only time can tell. But I sure (you I hate writing to public) - oh seek well, would be well to have colgate. Anyhow, I want to wish you all the success and I hope you'll do truly deserve it. I know you'll do well beneficial things. (I'm prepared to always remember the great one we had at U.P. to help in your just being together at all the time.
"blue bone". The next best of everyday always. We'll be forever

Dear Bill,

Good-luck and best wishes in all that you do in the future. I'm sure you'll never forget our "class?" in Oral German. Again my best wishes for the years to come.
